The 14th. Sunday in Ordinary Time July 3, 2016

First Reading: Isaiah 66:10-14c

The prophet cries out "rejoice" to the people because God's graciousness and power will become known to His children. He will comfort His own like a mother.

Second Reading: Galatians 6:14-18

St. Paul boasts in the cross alone. All the ado about whether or not Gentile converts need to be circumcised is therefore meaningless. He also refers to his suffering as "the marks of Jesus on his body."

Gospel: Luke 10:1-12, 17-20, or 10:1-9

St. Luke describes the aspects of the apostolic mission. While travelling in pairs, the missionaries may have to struggle with adversaries, but they also will bring about a new era of peace. Yet the real prize for their work is to have their names inscribed in heaven's honor roll.

Reflection by Rev. Leonard N. Peterson

Every people's organization has one, so why not God's? I refer to God's "honor roll" of the saints in heaven—the canonized and the non-canonized persons "up there" with Our Lord. Earthbound honor rolls often hang on a wall at a company's headquarters; or they comprise a monument in marble. Wherever we enshrine the memories of our best fellow human beings becomes a sacred place.

Tomorrow, on our national Independence Day, we inevitably honor those first Americans whose special bravery led them to sign a document making us into an entirely new nation. Declaring us independent of England, they set the course for the world's most successful democracy. It is natural for us to honor these national heroes of ours.

It is interesting to note that the Person who deserves the most honor from us, is memorialized in a unique way: in a living sacrament of His Body and Blood. Obviously God wanted it done this way, lest we think of Jesus as dead and not living among us.

His decision to make us His messengers in our time a tremendous honor, both fascinating and humbling. He has chosen us, with all our faults and failings, to be on His honor roll. Each generation accepts the honor, aided by the Holy Spirit. Surely our methods have changed since Apostolic times. We note how those original pairs went about the land with their sandals strapped and their hearts full of enthusiasm! Upon their return, Jesus told them to rejoice that their names were written on heaven's "honor roll."

This weekend it is only right to ask ourselves how about our enthusiasm? If there were such a thing as a "zeal meter" where would the needle land for us? Sometimes, sad to say, we are embarrassed to be known as a friend of Jesus. We prefer not to witness to Him. We forget our baptismal mission. What a shame it would be to find out we missed being on Christ's honor roll. But that doesn't have to be the story of our life. The good news is that we always have the chance to change with each new day.

Our Declaration of Independence states that we are "endowed by our Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." Thus endowed, we as Christians can be missionaries for God, our Creator, in ways that our liberty makes possible and our happiness intensifies.

St. Boniface Picnic

Thank You, Thank You, Thank You

We would like to thank all of you for your financial and Physical help in making our picnic such a great success. It was wonderful seeing so many former members return and share their wonderful memories of days gone by. God has certainly blessed St. Boniface parish over the last 50 years and hopefully He will continue to do so in the days ahead.

Again Thank You,
Marion & Dennis Dale

St Boniface Mission Statement

As members of our parish, we believe that we share in the mission of Jesus through our baptism and commitment to the values expressed in the gospel.

The dedication of our parish to the Holy Spirit calls us to be particularly attentive to the inspiration and guidance of the Spirit as we:

Gather as a community that worships together and supports one another in spiritual growth;

Witness to our belief through sharing our faith with others and providing for education in faith to our members;

Respond with compassion to both the spiritual and corporal needs of those around us;

Care for the many gifts we have been given and seek to use them wisely.
