What better gift than Mass prayers and to light the Tabernacle candle to have friends and family remembered for birthdays, anniversaries, and so many other occasions. Mass intentions and candles are not only for the deceased, but also as a Special Intention for the Living. Feel free to call us with a date. There is a list of available dates. You can leave your $15 donation for Mass stipends or $10 for the tabernacle offering in the rectory.

Corpus Christi June 18, 2017

First Reading: Deuteronomy 8:2-3, 14b-16a
 Lest the people give in to a collective amnesia, Moses reminds them of God's historical role as their Caregiver. He even fed them with manna.

Second Reading: I Corinthians 10:16-17
 Sharing in the one bread and one cup, Christ's very Body and Blood, forges a unity among believers, who are never overcome by their diversity.

Gospel: John 6:51-58
 Jesus makes the grand announcement about Himself as the Source of eternal life to those who eat His Body and drink His Blood. The Jews are unable to accept this.

Reflection by Rev. Leonard N. Peterson

The pictures on the pamphlets say it all. I refer to those printed appeals mailed out by charitable Church groups and religious societies that care for the hungry. Usually they are photos of sad-eyed children who haven't eaten for days. Our heart aches, and that grip on our wallet breaks. We imagine those children's pains. We want to help. Why? Because we're good people, and a child's hunger, or anybody's hunger for that matter, is a terrible thing.

I bring that picture forward to your mind's eye without any hint of cynicism whatever. Physical hunger can not only destroy a person's body, but also his/her focus on anything else. In the end, hunger threatens hope with extinction.

What we cannot see as easily as a pamphlet photo is spiritual hunger. The visuals are available if we look more deeply than a glance at its victims. Nearly every picture of murder and mayhem on our streets; the shootings, car jacking, and kidnaping all the way to terrorist acts that slaughter the innocent show a starvation of the spirit within the perpetrators.

Into this moral mess and missing morale, steps our loving God with the perfect antidote: a menu of spiritual food—His Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity—here with us for all time through the power of His promise and the action of His ordained priests.

The occasion of this weekend's feast, which we celebrate full bore without the sad distractions around the Holy Thursday Supper, is our chance to be grateful. It is also an opportunity to wake up from any collective amnesia about what we have been given through God's goodness, and what lies behind the tabernacle door in all our churches.

Might I add that the celebration of Corpus Christi presents an opportunity for us to examine our dress and demeanor in church? We when we gather to celebrate the Holy Eucharist it is all about God, Who deserves our best. Do we respond "Amen" to the priest or extraordinary minister who presents the Sacred Host and Chalice to us? Our "Amen" is an act of faith, because the word means "so be it; I believe."

Having been fed, in a much more splendid way than with desert manna, we have within us the ability to give to others a picture of Christ that looks a lot like us. If our hearts remain as open to this indwelling of God, we can join in spirit with this prayer of St. Teresa of Avila (d. 1582) the great holy woman Doctor of the Church:

"Christ has no body but yours,
No hands, no feet on earth but yours,
Yours are the eyes with which he looks
Compassion on this world,
Yours are the feet with which he walks to do good,
Yours are the hands, with which he blesses all the world."
